Big bang, out of thin air

By MICHAEL DANIELS

It was a blast from the past — strong enough to shake buildings, rattle windows and cause residents to grab the telephone and call their town office to try to find out what was going on.

"Someone asked: 'Did the mill blow up?'" said Angie Lovejoy, deputy clerk in the Greenwood Town Office.

The Woodstock Town Office received similar calls.

But the town offices could offer no answers.

A recent earthquake in Bar Harbor led some people to wonder if the ground also shook here on Friday, but records at the Maine Geological Survey say not.

"Someone asked: 'Did the mill blow up?'"

It turns out the source of the loud bang was not underground, but overhead.

"With 99 percent certainty, it was most likely us," said Lt. Col Lloyd Gaudreau, public affairs officer for the 158th Fighter Wing of the Vermont Air National Guard.

The fighter wing was conducting exercises Friday in the Condor Military Operating Area, which runs from West Paris north to the Canadian Border.

Flying F-16 "Fighting Falcons," pilots from the wing were practicing evasive maneuvers (including "dogfighting"), generally at subsonic speeds, "but on occasion they

Saturday house fire and dirt bike crash

By ALISON ALOISIO

A house fire and a dirt bike accident within 45 minutes of each other Saturday kept area emergency responders very busy.

At about 3 p.m., a structure fire was reported in Mason Township. The home of Mike and Debbie Martin was gutted by the flames, according to Jim Young, Bethel fire chief.

Mike Martin was home at the time and doing some work on his roof when he noticed smoke coming from the house.

Young said firefighters had a difficult time getting at the fire in the ceiling and walls, because the old home has had multiple additional layers built onto it in those places.

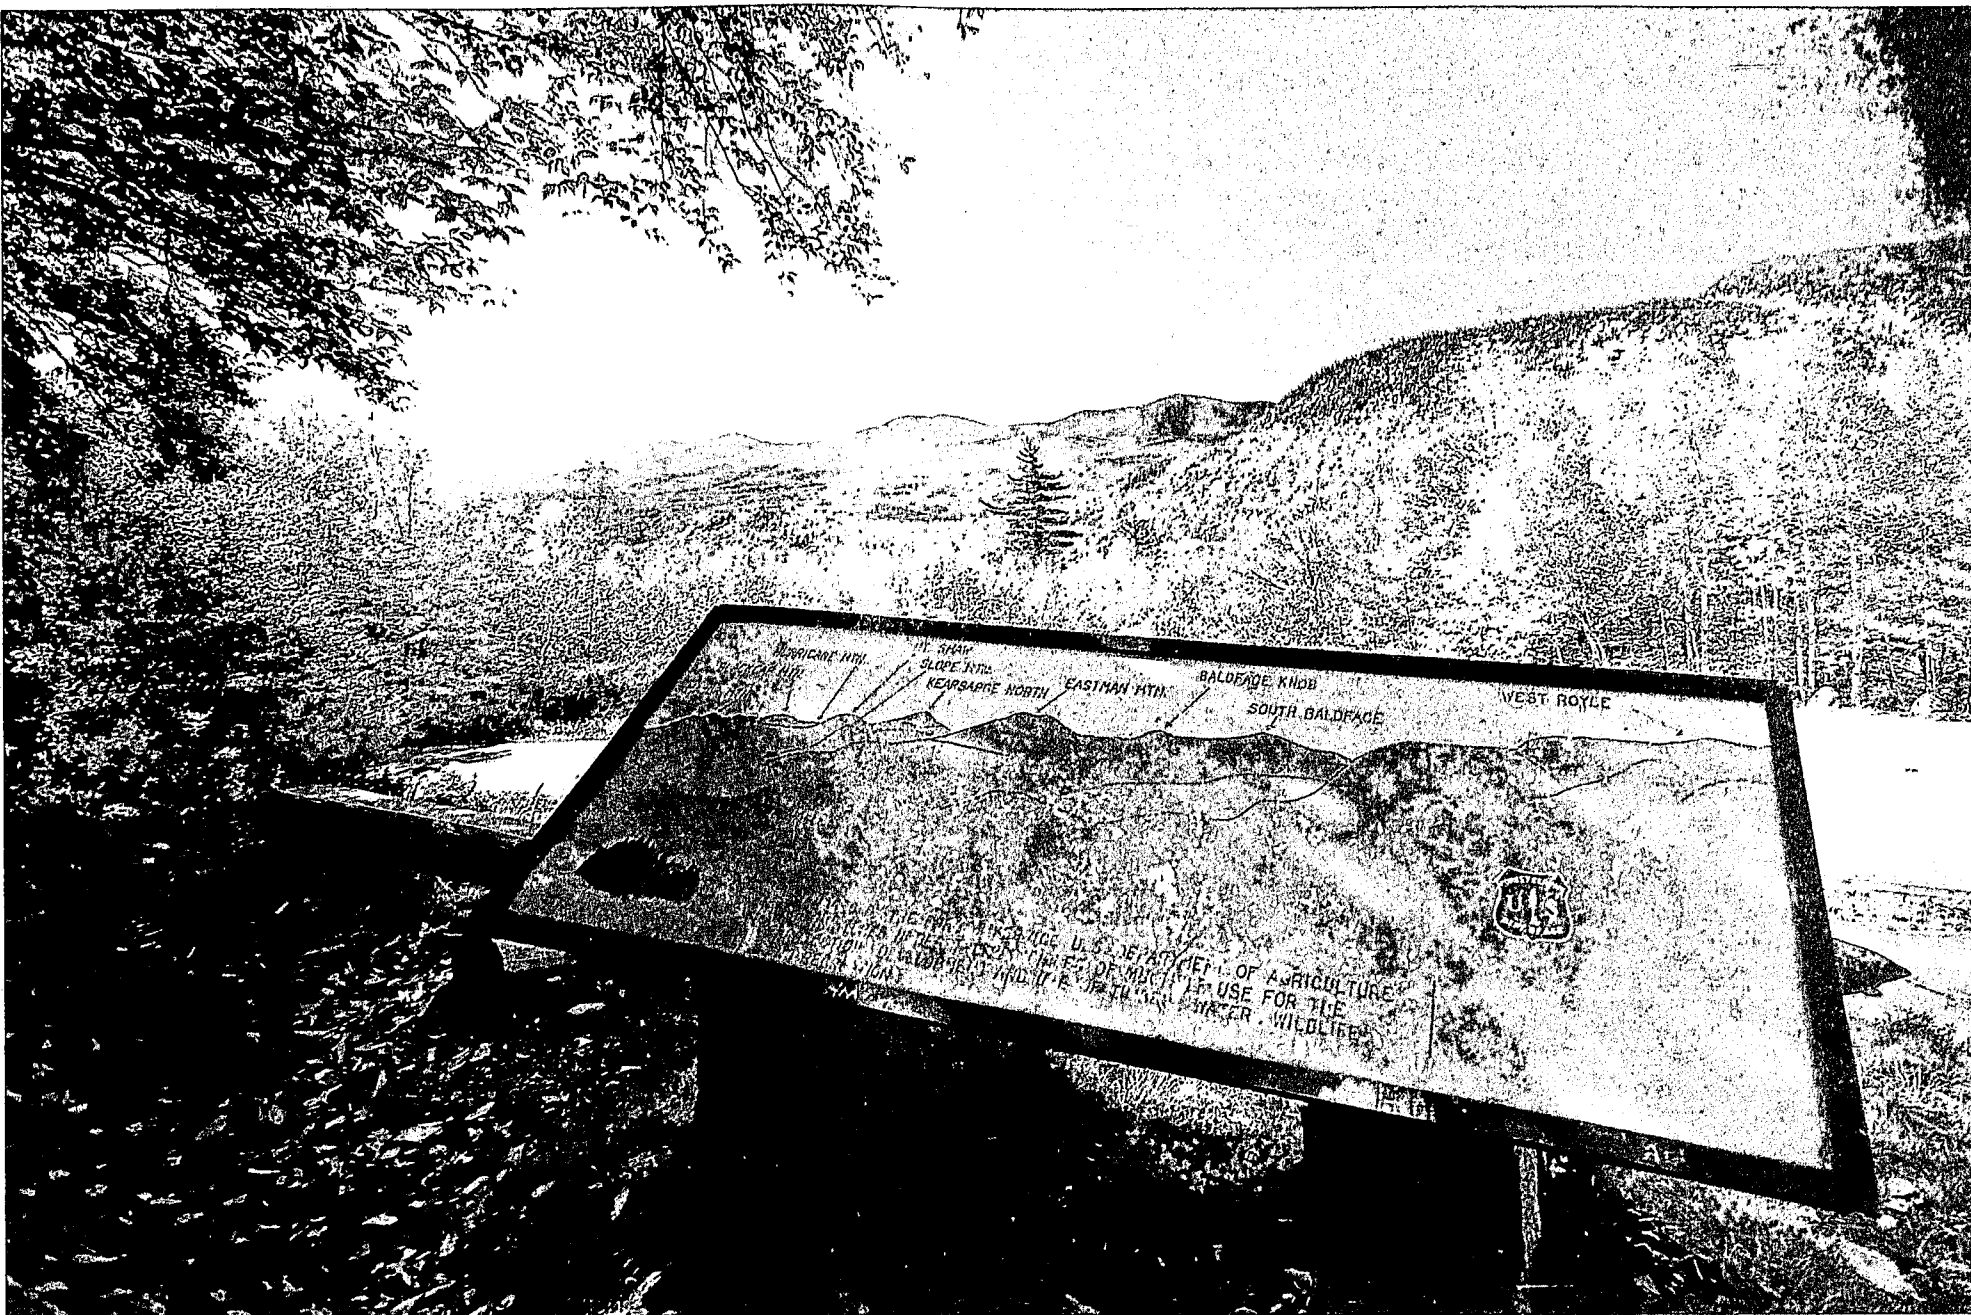

Bethel firefighters were at the scene for about four hours, said Young.

About three dozen firefighters from Bethel, Newry, Gil-ead, Greenwood and Woodstock fought the blaze. Bethel Rescue also responded.

Young said that as of Tuesday the fire's cause had not

Peak weekend for the leaves was a trifecta in blue

Reflections of bright foliage dapple an interpretive sign at the Cold River Overlook, on Route 113 in the White Mountain National Forest. The Columbus Day Weekend brought three days of perfect blue-sky weather, ideal for leaf peeping, and that was in turn reflected at businesses in town. For a foliage weekend, this Columbus Day "probably broke all records," said Robin Zinchuk, executive director of the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce.

Nuptials plans clash at Artist's Bridge

By ALISON ALOISIO

The Town of Newry has a message for brides-to-be who might be envisioning a wedding at the Artist's Bridge — the town is not in the wedding planning business.

"We're not booking the bridge," said First Selectman Steve Wight.

It's a point the board wants to emphasize after two brides signed up for the bridge for the same date and time next summer.

One of the brides, who claims she has committed thousands of dollars for her plans that day, now wants the town to either reimburse her or pay for an alternate wedding site.

The Town Office keeps a calendar listing of couples planning their weddings at the bridge. But technically, the structure belongs to the state of Maine, and the town has no real jurisdiction over it.

Town officials say they keep the calendar only as an aid for Group seeks historical designation, then grants for Albany Town Hall

By ALISON ALOISIO

An effort is underway to put the Albany Town Hall on the National Register of Historic Places — and make it eligible for grants to fund repair work and the installation of running water.

Albany is not a town, and hasn't been since 1929. It is a township, with services provided through Oxford County.

In the early 20th century, the hall, located at the intersection of the Hunt's Corner Road and Vernon Street, was the site of regular meetings. Through the middle part of the century, groups such as 4H Boy Scouts and political parties used the building, and regular dances took place there.

Residents still cast their ballots at the hall on state and national election days. Ballot clerks man the voting lists and booths throughout the day. But they have only the attached outhouse to use for a bathroom facility.

Members of the Albany Improvement Association want to make the building more user-friendly and, in turn, try to encourage more use by the community.

But since AIA members have no authority to raise tax funds, it's not an easy task. The group holds a yard sale each year, which pays for the building's insurance coverage.

On Monday night, three members of the group, Eugene and Lorraine Tanguay and Norma Salway, met at the hall to discuss their work.

They started the National Register application process about a year and a half ago, they said. It included researching the history of the hall which, Lorraine said, is sketchy. It's not certain exact-

Round Pond rental will go to site plan review

By MICHAEL DANIELS

The owner of Round Pond Station has agreed to submit the lakeside lodging establishment for site plan review.

"He hopes to have a full application ready for next Monday's Planning Board meeting," said Greenwood Town Manager Kim Sparks.

A site walk by the Planning Board is scheduled for today (Oct. 12), Sparks said.

Round Pond Station consists of one main building and three smaller structures.

Until recently it was advertised on the internet as offering a total of seven bedrooms and accommodating up to 25 people — despite the fact that the property's septic permits allowed for only four bedrooms.

The situation came to the attention of Greenwood officials when a resident came into the town office and expressed concerns about the adequacy of the septic system and the potential for pollution of the lake.

After discussing the situation, the Planning Board urged the Board of Selectmen to take legal action to shut down Round Pond Station.

In a letter to the selectmen, Planning Board Vice Chairman David Brainard wrote: "The consensus of the board was that continued operation of the 'resort' would be likely to cause significant damage to the adjacent shoreline and to Round Pond."

The selectmen opted against immediate legal action. In-

FROM THE BEATSON FAMILY

To the Editor:

The Beatson family would like to express their profound gratitude to the town of Bethel, all the businesses, and everyone for your participation in the Candlelight Memorial for Cindy, Selby, Julie, and James. Your extreme caring, thoughtfulness, and generosity are unsurpassed and went a long way to give our "faith in mankind" a much-needed boost. The memorial was as beautiful as it was soul restoring. It proved to be something we all needed to help us on the pathway of grieving.

We realize the work that went into the memorial was tremendous. The generosity of individuals, businesses, and the town, with donations of everything from precious personal time, candles, and lodging was astonishing. People gave anything they could to make the evening a beautiful remembrance of our loved ones.

Yet this beautiful ceremony would never have come to pass without the help of many extraordinary people. So to these wonderful people a special and heartfelt "Thank You." Without your kindness and caring the Beatson, Bullard and WhitEhurst families would have missed a rare opportunity to honor their loved ones Cindy, Selby, Julie and James. Unfortunately, words cannot express the gratitude we will always feel. What amazing friends Cindy had, and how right she was about Bethel "being" her home.

Thank you all,

Doug Beatson

A CHANCE TO LIVE

To the Editor:

When I saw the bear with a badly mangled paw with a trap still attached to it, I was horrified. I called Warden Norman Lewis and spoke with his wife who kindly directed me to Jack Knight, another wildlife rehabilitator who lives in the Bridgton area. When I explained the situation to Jack he promised to bring a bear trap in the hopes that we could apprehend this bear.

As promised Jack arrived promptly the next day with the large barrel trap and set it on my property. That same night we caught the bear.

The following morning when Jack and the warden arrived here I was told that the bear had been dragging around the trap for quite awhile. Jack had brought drugs to put the bear to sleep so that the bear's paw could be inspected, but it was decided that this procedure would not be done here. When they took the bear away I did not know whether or not the animal would live.

I hardly dared to hope. That evening when I spoke to Jack he told me that after he anesthetized the bear, removed the trap, and inspected the paw, he realized that the wound was not infected. At this juncture the warden decided to give the bear a chance and had taken him on a long drive to the Canadian border where the animal had been released that afternoon. The warden told Jack that the bear had run into the woods with great enthusiasm.

I am grateful to the warden for making this humane decision on behalf of a bear who through no fault of its own had come into harm's way, and for Jack Knight, obviously a man of great heart, who not only responded so promptly to my call, but who also came here, trapped the bear, and saw to it that the animal was given a chance to live.

CHARTING MAINE'S FUTURE

To the Editor:

Over the last year I have attended several town meetings and meetings dealing with Maine's economy. Yesterday I attended my second meeting hosted by Grow Smart Maine in Lewiston. The purpose of the meeting was to introduce "Charting Maine's Future," a report of the findings from a study by The Brookings Institute. It is a very fascinating and comprehensive study of Maine's economy and suggestions of actions to be taken to improve our future.

If you are interested in Maine's future you can access information on this report at www.brookings.edu/metro/maine. Grow Smart Maine is going to hold an annual meeting on Oct. 20 at the Augusta Civic Center. At this summit the above report will be gone into in detail. You can access information on this meeting at their website: growsmartmaine.org and register at summit@growsmartmaine. If you prefer, you can call 847-9270 for information. I would encourage all who are interested in our state to become familiar with this report.

TABOR FATALLY FLAWED

To the Editor:

Maine's population is among the oldest of our 50 states. As a retiree living on a fixed income, I must weigh the appeal of TABOR's constraints on spending and taxes against diminished critical services. Fortunately, when weighing the promises of TABOR, we can study the "laboratory experiment" provided by Colorado, the sole state to implement TABOR.

In 2005, with its economy in tatters, Colorado voted to suspend this ill-fated experiment. Since 2001, alone, Colorado has made $1 billion in spending cuts. One-hundred thousand seniors lost help paying property taxes when the Homestead Act had to be repealed. Medicaid budgets for long-term and in-home services for seniors were lower than those in 44 states. More than seniors are impacted: Colorado has dropped to 39th among states for funding for health and hospitals. Colorado is 28th among states in access to prenatal care and 50th in "on-time" immunizations. Colorado children without healthcare have increased from 15 percent to 27 percent. Public education has suffered. K through 12 education has seen the fourth largest drop in funding among all 50 states. Colorado teachers are 50th in pay. Colorado's rates for high school graduation had declined from 76 percent to 70 percent. Public library funding has dropped 79 percent. If health and education are not your concerns, consider that Colorado has dropped to 44th nationally in highway funding with a $12.6 billion backlog in unfinished projects. $1.6 billion is needed to repair bridges and roads that decayed under TABOR (AARP-Maine; AARP-National).

TABOR's indexing annual changes in state and local budgets based on population growth and inflation, or changes in total assessed value (whichever is smaller), is fatally flawed. It does not consider emergency circumstances (Think: Ice Storm) or federal mandates (Think: 'No Child Left Behind'). Nor do TABOR calculations recognize that subgroups of the population (with their unique needs) grow more rapidly than the general population. For example, by 2030 Maine's overall population will grow but 10.7 percent, but its senior population will grow by 104 percent (U.S. Census Bureau). TIM CARTER

To the Editor:

Tim Carter is a local farmer who wants to protect Maine's farms, woodlots and traditional way of life. I have known Tim for many years as an honest businessman. He worked hard to pay his bills, support his family and preserve the family farm for future generations.

Tim is the type of person we need in Augusta. He understands local issues and how to solve them. He was born and educated in Maine. He served as an infantry officer, and held a position in the U.S. Department of Agriculture. I hope that you agree with me that Tim knows how to be effective in Augusta and will vote for him on Nov. 7.

TIM CARTER

To the Editor:

Tim Carter is running for state representative in District 91. Tim has always been interested in farmers and people of Maine. He is a farmer and has worked with the federal government to see farmers' needs are met. Many farmers are challenged to keep their farms operating.

Tim worked with USDA for years. He was involved when I was an employee of USDA-ASCS and was always helpful to everyone.

Mr. Carter would appreciate your vote in November and will do his best to represent all the people of Maine and his district.

NANCY BESSEY

To the Editor:

As many of you know, I ran for the Maine House of Representatives for the seat that is being vacated by Arlan Jodrey. I lost that race and while it was a disappointment I lost to a very capable opponent.

Nancy Bessey is a terrific candidate for the office. She will bring fresh ideas to the House and she will work tirelessly on behalf of the people of Maine and particularly House District 91.

She is bright, energetic and has a marvelous background in business. This background will help all the people of Maine by revitalizing the economic climate in this state.

She recognizes that we are taxed too much, regulated too much, our healthcare costs are absurdly high and that something has to be done in order to increase the potential of the state of Maine.

I urge all of you who voted for me, for which I am eternally grateful, to cast a vote for Nancy Bessey.

I also urge those of you who are independent or those of you who are registered Democrats to say no to the same old tax-and-spend routine and cast a vote for a change that will benefit the state of Maine and all of her people.

TIM CARTER

To the Editor:

Tim Carter is running for the District 91 seat in the Maine House of Representatives. He has a fine background for this position. Tim has served in Washington and worked for the U.S. Department of Agriculture. He is also from a family that has lived in this town for many generations.

I personally will be very pleased should he be elected.

In our back yard:

Close the cottage with care

The summer months have flown by. It seems like just yesterday you were opening up your cottage for the summer. Things were so hectic then; cleaning, repairing, hooking up the waterline, installing the dock and mooring, and launching the boat, in anticipation of those fun-filled days on the water.

Now it is time to get the cottage ready for the harsh fall and winter months ahead. You probably have a list of things to do to ensure that expensive repairs will not be needed next spring.

When going through this yearly winterizing ritual, it is important to consider possible impacts to water bodies and the surrounding environment from these activities. After all, one of the main reasons you go to the cottage is to enjoy the area's unspoiled beauty.

Winterizing a cottage requires preventing pipes from freezing. Unless the structure is heated year round, most owners drain the water system to ensure that it will not freeze. In the past it was common practice to use antifreeze to protect plumbing. Antifreeze is toxic and it poses a threat to ground and surface waters not to mention the danger of it being ingested by pets. Adding antifreeze to plumbing fixtures is not necessary, provided all the fixtures are completely drained. If you cannot do this, use low toxicity antifreeze to minimize potential threats.

Damage from rodents such as mice and squirrels are also a concern for cottage owners. Refrain from using pesticides or poisons. To prevent these unwanted guests, inspect the building inside and out to make sure there are no openings for rodents to enter. Remove all food sources from the cottage before you close it.

To make sure that the shoreline area will not succumb to ice or wave damage, inspect the shoreline thoroughly. Stabilize any eroding areas with vegetation or rock riprap if necessary. If using riprap, or patching a retaining wall, anything more than minor maintenance and repair will require state and local permits, so plan accordingly.

This is also a good time to inspect parking and landscaped areas for signs of erosion. When removing docks and boats from the water, try to store them in an area that will not kill vegetation. A stable shoreline and healthy vegetation are important in keeping eroding soil from harming water quality.

Regarding boat motors and other power equipment, do not try to drain gasoline from fuel tanks. Instead use fuel stabilizer (available from your dealer or auto parts store) to keep fuel fresh for next season. Winterize your engine(s) away from the water. When changing lubricating oils, collect the oil and bring it to a recycling facility for proper disposal. Wash boats away from the water, preferably at a commercial car wash. Many detergents and motor oils contain chemicals that can pollute water bodies.

Following these simple rules when winterizing your cottage will go far in protecting the natural resources you so enjoy as a cottage owner. We all must work together to ensure that our natural resources remain in good shape for future generations.

Transfer station plan changed

BETHEL—The projected $31,000 cost of upgrades at the Tri-town Transfer Station is expected to increase, following a decision by town officials to obtain an engineer's seal for the retaining wall that is a key element in the plan. Final cost projections for the project have not yet been made, Town Manager Scott Cole said Wednesday, but the are expected to be available in time for the Monday, Oct. 16 special meeting on the proposal. Cole said he believed the proposal might be tabled at that meeting. A second item on the agenda, $5,000 to be put toward the possible expansion and/or relocation of the skateboard park, is expected to be taken up as originally planned. The special Town Meeting will be held at 7 p.m. in the Town Office meeting Room.

Nielsen indicted

PARIS—A man accused of killing four people over Labor Day weekend was formally charged Thursday with four counts of murder. The indictments handed up Thursday afternoon in Oxford County Superior Court contained no additional charges against Christian Nielsen beyond the original murder counts, said Bill Stokes, deputy attorney general in Augusta. Nielsen, 31, is scheduled to be arraigned on Oct. 18 in Cumberland County Superior Court. Nielsen was moved to the Cumberland County Jail after an unprovoked attack on an inmate at the Oxford County Jail, officials said. Nielsen was living at the Black Bear Inn and working as a cook at another nearby inn at the time of the Labor Day weekend killings. Nielsen is accused of killing another boarder at the Black Bear, James Whitehurst, 50, of Batesville, Ark., and then burning and disposing of his body in nearby Upton on Sept. 1. Two days later, he allegedly killed Julie Bullard, 65, the owner of the Black Bear Bed & Breakfast in Newry where Nielsen was staying. The following day, Labor Day, he allegedly killed Bullard's daughter, 30-year-old Selby, and her friend, 43-year-old Cindy Beatson, when they unexpectedly showed up at the inn. The women's bodies were dismembered. Police say Nielsen has confessed to the slayings.

Olympian wins wife carrying

NEWRY—John Farra, a former Winter Olympian from Caribou, won the seventh annual North American Wife Carrying Championship on Saturday at Sunday River. Farra's first-place finish earned him and his 110-pound wife Tess her weight in beer and five times her weight in cash, or $550. They also are eligible for a $1,000 reimbursement toward a trip to the world championships in Finland next July. The Farras completed the 278-yard course, which includes a water trough and log hurdles, in 1 minute, 6 seconds in the critical heat and 1 minute, 4 seconds in the final. Daniel Brown and Janel Worcester of Brewer were second, about 10 seconds behind, in the field of 27 couples. Farra, who competed in cross-country ski races in the 1992 Games in Albertville, France, trained for the wife carry by running up a slope near his home each morning before work with 80 pounds of mortar mix in a backpack. Several hundred spectators turned out for the competition during the height of western Maine's fall foliage season.

Switzerland exchange offered

BETHEL—Young professionals between the ages of 25 and 40 are being sought by the regional district of Rotary International to participate in a four-week Group Study Exchange to Lucerne, Switzerland in April, 2007. The program provides travel grants for teams to exchange visits between paired areas in different countries. For four to six weeks, team members experience the host country's institutions and ways of life, observe their own vocations as practiced abroad, develop personal and professional relationships, and exchange ideas. Local Rotarians in the host area provide for meals, lodging and group travel within their district. Interviews for members will take place Oct. 28. At 11:09 p.m. Officer Bill Britting was notified by dispatch that a subject who sounded intoxicated had called. The subject has bail conditions prohibiting the use or possession of alcohol. It was determined he had left for Mexico. The vehicle description was forwarded to that Police Department.

Sunday, Oct. 8

At 5:35 p.m. Officer Rusty Daley responded to Elm Street for a telephone harassment complaint.

At 3:25 p.m. Officer Rusty Daley responded to Chapman Street for a telephone harassment complaint.

At 9 a.m. Officer Phil Taylor responded to a Route 2 lodging place for a report of damage to two parked motorcycles. They had been kicked over, one into the other, sometime between midnight and 5 a.m. One sustained an estimated $1,200 in damages and the other $2,000.

At 2:45 a.m. ACO Mac McCormick responded to the Sunday River Road to pick up a dog in a vehicle. The vehicle owner had been arrested by a county deputy for OUI. The dog was taken to its home.

Saturday, Oct. 7

At 1:26 p.m. Officer Phil Taylor responded to Route 5/ Mill Hill for a hit and run accident. A driver reported he had been struck by an old red Ford pickup truck, which he said failed to stop at the stop sign. The vehicles struck each other on their left front corners. The truck continued south on Route 5.

At 9:21 p.m. Lt. S.R. White and Officer Eric Mills responded to Main Street for a noise (music) complaint. The officers spoke with several subjects, who said the event would end at 10 p.m.

Friday, Oct. 6

At 11:30 p.m. at a Route 26 location ACO Mac McCormick picked up a dog found loose with no tags and took it to the shelter.

At noon ACO Mac McCormick responded to Route 26 for a report of a dog missing. The animal was found and returned to the owner, with a warning that it could not be allowed to run loose.

Thursday, Oct. 5

At 10 p.m. Officer Phil Taylor arrested Kevin Hodgkin, 50, of Newry for OUI at a Railroad Street business.

Wednesday, Oct. 4

At 4 p.m. a school official contacted Officer Phil Taylor to report the theft of several items from students' lockers.

This report highlights points of interest from the Bethel Police Department log. To reach the Bethel Police Department, call 911 in emergency situations, 824-3437 in non-emergencies.

Local candidates

Roy Gedat is the Democratic candidate for District 95 State Representative, representing Norway, West Paris, Waterford and Greenwood.

"I believe I can offer our communities strong and energetic representation in Augusta and pledge to put people first in all my votes," says Gedat.

Gedat recently served as president of Norway's Downtown Revitalization group and is committed to bringing good jobs and affordable healthcare to the area.

He is employed as the leader of a statewide professional association for direct care and support workers after having served as executive director of Norway's Child Health Center for 18 years. He is active in local groups like the Norway Budget Committee, Norway Summer Festival Committee, as a Norway Historical Society trustee and serves on the Chamber of Commerce Legislative Committee.

Gedat's areas of concern include: good jobs, affordable and accessible healthcare, and strengthening our commitment to elders and children. "We need good jobs, good roads and affordable healthcare. The people of District 95 deserve better than partisan finger pointing. People are sick of paying taxes and not seeing results."

Gedat is committed to a clean and safe environment. He is a member of SAM, receiving their A rating. He believes that voters are ready for a change in their Representative. He is currently knocking on every door in the district to meet voters in person and invites your calls or e-mails. He can be reached at 743-9080 and Gedat06@gmail.com.

State Rep. John Patrick of Rumford is running for a fourth term representing District 92, which includes Andover, Byron, Roxbury, Rumford, Weld, Madrid, Rangeley Plantation and West Central Franklin Township.

A former Labor Committee member, Rep. Patrick currently chairs the Legal and Veterans Affairs committee and chairs the Maine's Citizen Trade Policy Commission.

Patrick is committed to working to lower property taxes for working families and seniors, lowering costs and increasing access to healthcare for all Mainers and working for jobs that pay a livable wage.

Patrick is a former president of Paperworkers Union Local 900. He is a past board member of the Maine AFL-CIO and served four years on the St. Athanasius and St. John's school board, as well as three years on the SAD43 school board. He is on the board of the River Valley Technology Center.

He is a past president of the Eagles and is a member of the Elks Club, Maine Snowmobile Association, Webb River Sportsman's Club, Sportsman's Alliance of Maine and St. Athanasius and St. John's Church.

Patrick is married to the former Claire Coulombe, has three adult children and is employed at NewPage. Endorsements include the Maine Council of Senior Citizens/ARA, Sportsman's Alliance of Maine, Maine AFL-CIO, United Steel Workers and Maine Credit Union League.

"I look forward to talking with those in my district as I go door to door. I want to continue being your voice in Augusta," Patrick stated. "Voters may reach me at 364-7666 or at johnpat2000@hotmail.com."

go supersonic," Gaudreau said.

"I don't think it was intentional by any means. We strive not to do that," Gaudreau said.

The operational floor in Condor is 7,000 feet, but the F-16s operating here Friday were training above 18,000 feet, Gaudreau said.

(A National Guard proposal in 1992 to drop the floor in Condor down to 300 feet — in order to better accommodate newer fighters — was ultimately abandoned, in the face of strong opposition from many area residents, and from the Maine Congressional delegation.)

During the 1960s and '70s sonic booms caused by military training flights were not at all uncommon here, but in the past 20 years there have been very few.

"That's why we were so startled," said Marie Bartlett, who lives on North Pond. "We're not used to it anymore."

There's no need to become used to it again, said Gaudreau. He described Friday's boom as "coincidental," and said it did not herald a change in the way the military operates overhead here.

The greatly reduced number of booms in the past two decades is due in large part to greater recognition of their environmental impact, Gaudreau said.

"We don't want to be rattling folks' windows," he said. "We want to be good neighbors."

Second, lower route
Condor is not the only military training area overhead. VR-840, a ten-mile-wide, low-level training route also runs through western Maine.

VR-840 begins at Pleasant Mountain just west of Bridgton. From there it heads north through Locke Mills, East Bethel, East Andover and Upton, where it turns northeast toward Carrabassett.

Planes on VR-840 generally fly at speeds in the range of 500 mph, well below the 760 mph "sound barrier."

(The speed of sound decreases as altitude increases. At the altitude the F-16s were operating Friday, the speed of sound — or "Mach 1" — is approximately 550 mph, Gaudreau said.)

A variety of military aircraft, including F-15s, F-16s, F-18s and A-10 "Warthogs" regularly use VR-840. For photographs of some of these aircraft actually flying the route, see <http://wejones.ftdata.com/vr840.html>.

Dirt bike crash

At 3:45 p.m., a second Bethel Rescue truck and Bethel police officers Eric Mills and Lt. S.R. White were called to the Rabbit Road for a dirt bike accident.

Michael Piawlock, 29, of Woodstock had gone off the road at a high rate of speed and laid his Yamaha bike down, according to Mills.

Piawlock received head and neck injuries, and also suffered a severe bite on his tongue, White said.

Bethel Rescue took Piawlock to the Bethel Airport, where LifeFlight transported him to Central Maine Medical Center, where he was reported to be in stable condition.

Mills said it appeared Piawlock had struck a steel culvert that runs across the road, and his front tire came off the ground. When he tried to correct, he went off the road and into the grass.

As of Wednesday, Piawlock was no longer listed as a patient at CMMC, according to a spokesman.

prospective brides and grooms. "We're just trying to give people a heads up on when it's being used," said Wight.

Two brides, one bridge

The current problem arose this past summer when first one bride, then another, called the Town Office to ask to use the bridge on a date in August of next year.

Town officials wrote down the names — but on two different calendars.

The mistake was discovered at the end of August. By then, both brides' plans were underway.

Hoping the two could shift their plans by a few hours to accommodate each other, town officials gave the name of the second bride to the first.

But in mid-September, Newry received a two-page letter from the first bride, who lives in the Portland area.

She said the other would not compromise, and that the wedding service providers with whom she has signed a contract cannot change their schedules, either.

The woman claims the services she has arranged cost a total of about $15,000.

"My fiancé and I have explored other options," she wrote. "We would agree to having our wedding on the Sunday River Golf Course, if the town of Newry was willing to pay for both the fee to the golf course and also to pay for a tent should the weather not permit."

"These fees, which would cost an additional $3,500 for us, unfortunately were not budgeted for when we drew up our final wedding plans and contracted the people that I have listed above."

"We would also be willing to move our wedding date, should the professionals we carefully researched and hired be able to provide services at a later date and the town be willing to reimburse us the $15,000 that we have agreed to pay to the people I have listed above, as we have not budgeted to pay for these services twice."

"I am also interested in hearing your solutions."

A public place

Newry selectmen discussed the issue at their regular meeting last week.

Having the town pay the bride was not an option, they said.

They noted that even with the calendar listings at the Town Office, there is nothing to prevent another group from using the bridge at the same time as another, whether planned or not, because it is a public place.

"The Boy Scouts could go there for a birthday party," said administrative assistant Loretta Powers, or people could simply show up with no particular purpose in mind.

It was suggested the town could discontinue the practice of even keeping a calendar.

But, said Wight, "it would be worse if we didn't do it and two (wedding parties) show up at the same time."

He suggested getting the word out to area businesses involved in wedding planning that the bridge cannot truly be "reserved," and to urge the businesses to make it clear to engaged couples that they are taking their chances.

As for the current wedding dilemma, Wight said he has since talked with the bride and told her the only solution continues to be a compromise between the wedding parties.

ly when the hall was built.

"The earliest reference is 1902," she said.

Randy Bennett, curator of collections at the Bethel Historical Society, said the building appears on an 1858 map, so it is at least that old.

A meeting with a representative of the Maine Historic Preservation Commission left the group hopeful about the prospects for getting on the register.

"We're optimistic, based on what the [commission] said," said Lorraine. A major reason, she said, is that the building has had few alterations in its history, an important criteria for approval.

If successful, the group would then like to take the next step — applying for grant funds. They have a substantial to-do list: install a bathroom and bring running water to the kitchen; fix the leaking roof; and install a handicapped-accessible ramp.

They've already taken one preliminary step

TOWN HALL UPGRADE SOUGHT—Norma Salway and Eugene and Lorraine Tanguay in the Albany Town Hall Monday night. Members of the Albany Improvement Association, they are working to get the hall (also known as the Town House) listed on the National Register of Historic Places. (Photo: A. Aloisio) toward the installation of a ramp. Because the building sits on land barely larger than its footprint, there wasn't enough property to allow the ramp construction. But a resident who owned land abutting the hall has donated an acre to the cause.

The AIA now has the option to build the ramp on the right side of the hall, and possibly create an adjacent parking lot.

Currently, all parking is on the road.

The members said any improvements would proceed in compliance with the National Register guidelines.

While they wait to hear from the register, the AIA members are planning a "painting day" for the spring. They hope residents will turn out with cans of paint to help spruce up the building.

More details on the event will be provided as spring approaches, they said.

Report

it anti-sprawl group called GrowSmart Maine, says that while the state's population is growing it's losing its rural areas to suburbs. The report also says Maine's economy is diversifying, but its small towns and environment are being degraded.

The "Charting Maine's Future" report, which took a year to complete, finds that Maine is producing more quality jobs, but says workers are unprepared for them.

It recommends spending $390 million to revitalize towns, preserve open land and farms, support research and development and create clusters of same-sector businesses to offer Mainers more job choices.

The money would come from a $190 million "Maine Quality Places Fund" underwritten by a 3 percentage-point increase in the state's lodging tax, to 10 percent.

A $180 million "Maine Innovation Jobs Fund" and a $20 million "Maine Cluster Development Fund" would come from savings of $60 million to $100 million a year from spending cuts and reorganizations recommended by a state government efficiency commission. The commission would operate in much the same way as the federal base closing commission.

"Maine is neither what it once was nor what it thinks it is," says the report, which sees fundamental changes taking place in the state. It also finds Maine residents beset with a "surprisingly pessimistic outlook."

However, it says the state "stands within reach of a new prosperity, if it takes bold action and focuses its limited resources on a few critical investments."

The research included interviews with state leaders, analysis of economic and demographic data and "listening sessions" to hear the views and concerns of residents throughout the state.

stead, they asked Sparks to work with Wells and the Planning Board to resolve the matter.

She and Wells — accompanied by his attorney — then met three times with the Planning Board.

Well said he would do whatever necessary to bring the resort into compliance with the relevant town regulations.

However Round Pond Station, like many other large vacation rentals in the area, falls in a regulatory gray area, and there was some uncertainty whether the Planning Board even had authority to demand a site plan review.

Ultimately, it was concluded that the establishment was sufficiently commercial to warrant such a review.

Wells agreed at the board's Oct. 2 meeting to submit a site plan application.

And the board agreed to waive several requirements on the site plan review list that board members felt were not relevant to Round Pond Station.

Bethel

by Virginia Keniston

Charles and Mary Millard and family of Bristol, R.I., were at their home on Chapman Street for the week-end. They attended the Fryeburg Fair and visited with Bob and Ginny Keniston at their booth in the Forestry Building.

Murray "Mike" Thurston is still a patient at the Rumford Community Hospital.

Carol Nielsen left this week to visit family in Pennsylvania for a few days then on to Cocoa Beach, Fla., for the winter months.

Steve and Marie Keane held a 20th Anniversary Party this weekend to celebrate their Wild River Adventure Business at their home on Vernon Street. Families were present of both Steve and Marie and friends from away as well as some of their trip leaders who have been with the Keanes from the beginning. Locals present were Tom Coolidge, Tim O'Connor (a neighbor), Fran Piccirillo from Woodstock. All helped with the finishing jobs on the new garage. Doug Wilson was present on Friday to finish the driveway before the party. It was a great celebration enjoyed by all.

If you have been out Vernon Street in the last two weeks, you should have noticed the nice big garage that Grayson Wakefield is building behind his home. He will be able to get his two cars and pickup truck inside and have a second floor for storage. His good friends helping are his brother, Clinton Wakefield of Woodstock, Ray Crockett, Rod Royer, Rudy Royer, both family, Kevin Marshall and Ryan Seames. Doug Zinchuk is finishing the shingling at this time. Grayson remarked that a few of these good friends will be building their garages in the next few years, so he will be reciprocating. They will surely appreciate having vehicles under cover when the snow blows across the field this winter.

Doug Rice of Guilford, Conn., was at the Chalet on business for a few days. He picked up his mother, Mary Rice Keniston, on Friday and his sister and brother, Donna Rice-

Howe and Don Rice, both of Waterford, and they drove on to Harrison for dinner. He returned home on Saturday.

Claire Berry Cantrell and husband, Steve, spent nine days recently with her brother Hi and Mary Lou Berry at Lone Pine. Everyone enjoyed the reunion weekend at Gould Academy and also celebrated Elise Berry's 14th birthday on Sunday. The Cantrells also enjoyed visiting relatives and friends in the Bethel area throughout their stay.

The United States flag was flown in support of Operation Enduring Freedom on Sept. 6 and 7 for CTF Chamberlain, 240th Engineer Group at South Engineer Camp, Bagram, Afghanistan, in honor of Mary P. Leimbach of Bethel. One of the signers of the certificate sent to Leimbach was Jarrod S. Crockett, CPT, IN, HHC, 240th EN GP, Commanding, Bagram Air Field, Afghanistan, formerly of East Bethel.

Oxford Hills Bridge Club met Friday, Oct. 6 at the Fare Share Commons where a four-table Howell movement was enjoyed. Finishing first in flight A were Les Buzzell and Larry Holmes with Marta Clements and Nancy Farmer second. Third were Henry Deutch and Woody Mercier. Finishing first in flight B were Carol Curran and Suzanne Andrews with Eleanor Griffin and Jim Dickens second.

Mayville News

By Don Bennett

Columbus Day weekend sort of snaps the whip for many businesses in Mayville. Route 2 traffic was certainly heavy most of the time; there are days when strings of cars and trucks going by our house nearly equaled the winter ski traffic volume when Sunday River's ski day is ending.

Carter's Middle Interval Farm corn harvesting crew were at it in full force. Besides the fields the Carters regularly lease in Mayville they also swap share fields and provide crop rotation planting for potato grower David McCrum.

A group of regional, state, southern region and district Natural Resources Conservation Service supervisory level representatives as well as three U.S. Department of Agriculture National Design, Construction and Soil Mechanics Center in Fort Worth, Texas, conducted a two-hour visit to the erosion damage located on the banks of the Riverside Cemetery today, Oct. 10. Arlan Jodrey, state Representative, District 91, Scott Cole, Bethel Town Manager and Donald Brooks, Riverside Cemetery Association president were there to support Bethel's case for riverbank repair. The gathering today included NCRS personnel from Amherst, Mass., Bangor, Lewiston and Oxford County.

NCRS expected that the two main regulatory bodies concerned with the project, Maine Department of Environmental Protection and the Army Corps of Engineers, would have representatives at the cemetery today but that did not happen. General discussion by the group concluded that the regulators wanted to see a plan before they got involved.

At the conclusion of today's visit the summary briefing given by the state NCRS representative whose office is in Bangor and who is overseeing progress on Bethel's emergency watershed protection case indicated that NCRS should have their design plan done before Feb. 1, 2007 and that construction would begin soon after the start of the 2007 river construction season, about July.

Consultation with the town would take place as the plan was put together with Peter Marcinuk being the main point of contact.

My summer and fall project of setting up an online list of burials in the Riverside Cemetery received a sizable boost last week when Adaline Clough from Mason drove by to drop off another 40 pages of names. To this list she then added another three pages of names for just one of the older Chapman families.

How many of you readers have thought of studying a town's population change by counting names in cemetery rows? In the last 60 years, most of the avenues (rows) at Riverside Cemetery have about 28 burials each whereas those that were filled back in the 1860s may have more than twice that number due mostly to larger families and unfortunately more infant deaths. As far as we know now the first burial in the Riverside Cemetery was a youngster's death that occurred Aug. 14, 1791; he was Curatio Twitchell, two

RENE AND GARFUNKEL—"He strolled up to the desk Saturday night, asked for a room and got our last one," said Chad McGrew of the Riverview in Bethel. "Rene (left) didn't recognize him. She was typing in his info. 'Last name?' 'Garfunkel.' 'First name?' 'Art.' She turned to look at him. 'No, really,' she said. 'Really,' he replied, handing her his gold Master Card. He talked Rene into making him a pot of coffee that night since he claimed he didn't know how to use a coffee maker. Then he was nice enough to agree to a couple of photos. He said he and Paul (Simon) had a great time at the concert we saw them in at the Fleet Center, and when I asked if they were ever going to do another one together he replied, 'I wouldn't be too surprised if that didn't happen in the next two or three years. We had a blast, and it was one of those rare tours that went off without a single hitch. And, what the heck, we made a FORTUNE.'"

In another piece of Mayville genealogical news, I learned by e-mail that the Lewis Crosby, who came from Bangor in late September as part of the cemetery's damage survey team, and I share a common ancestor Crosby. Records show that the old gentleman was the first Crosby pioneer from England to arrive in the Boston-Cambridge area; he came to America during the 1600s.

Other items in the Mayville news scorecard for this week, starting at the north end, were as follows:

Lunchtime clientele at the Brew Pub filled their parking lot just about daily over the long weekend.

The River View has continued their driveway and parking area maintenance with sealing and other work.

At our house the lowest morning temperature of the week and this fall was 29 degrees on Saturday.

Mayville Junction Condos was visited by Portland Glass this week to install more windows, particularly four large store front windows. Also, we now can see what the color scheme for the renovated building will be — the siding color is a very light avocado. (At least that is how I would describe it.) The trim is white — so far.

Twitchell Brook Estate developments of the recent past include trenching and laying the interior water main and rough grading around the building foundations. Mike Pelletier told me he hopes that his model will be open in about two and one-half months.

Gas at Mayville's Irving ended the week at $2.399 per gallon while the Irving station in South Paris listed their lowest price at $2.259.

Renovations and painting continue at the White's Prodigal Inn and Tom White's Studio. The big change for this week is that the barn/studio new color suggests a bronze tint.

In the historical trivia department, did Mayville ever have its own school? Yes, of course. Mayville was School District No. 4 in the Bethel school system of 24 district schools. Mayville's school house was located next to the Inn at the Rostay during its final years. Considered surplus in the town's school consolidation program it was not used after the 1890 school year. Bertha Grover, Martha Gibson and Stella Bowker taught there during the 1888 to 1890 period. Dr. John Gehring and Horatio Upton evaluated Bertha Grover as one of the town's most capable teachers in their school committee report of 1890. At a special town meeting held May 4, 1895, the town voted to authorize sale of the District 4 school house. The outer shell of the old school still exists as an addition to the house now owned, appropriately enough, by David and Nancy Murphy — a school superintendent with his own personal school house.

liquid on take-off in the morning, like they were going to some sort of a celebration.

The southern migration is very visible. Ginny Williamson has a large flock of monarch butterflies in asters. Many butterflies were out over the lake. Clearly they were from elsewhere.

The coyotes were sighted eating apples on the Williamson property.

Jim, Rector hiked the Grafton Loop recently. The climate was sunny and warm, most of the time.

Early morning fog obscured some of the great views in the area. Jim is an avid hiker having trekked in the Rocky Mountains and scaled Mount Katahdin to the top a few years ago.

The color is fading rapidly. It was later this year but alas it wasn't meant to remain. The yellows are still beautiful. The leaves in the driveway are a pain in the neck.

Joy Yarnell has returned from her visit to New Mexico. Happy birthday to Simonne Lavalley, who, in her mid-eighties puts us all to shame with her physical ability.

The Casey family, after attending the Fryeburg Fair spent the holiday weekend with Paul's sister in Conway.

A good time was had at the Bull Moose Saturday night. A party of eight natives enjoyed exceptionally good food. The prime rib was "Prime."

Carolyn Hill Taylor's dancing troop tapped their way to Upton from Portland.

Something in nature never changes. Sunday morning, right on schedule, the Canada jays made their appearance in the dooryard. There is usually a group of three; however, there were only two. They can eat enough for ten. Liz Stanczyk's peanut butter log was gobbled up in about half an hour. They devoured the better part of a loaf of stale French bread at my house. The best part of the visit is just how tame they are. Of course the "Bird of the Week" is the Canada jay.

Barbara and C.J. Stratton and guests, Terry Kelle and Frank Deluca enjoyed a splendid meal at the Balsams on Monday evening and a trip into Canada on Tuesday.

Good news. Richard LeComte and C.J. Stratton received at their cardiology visit at Maine Medical Center.

They did their best to break every dietary rule on the way home.

I hope you all enjoyed the Columbus Day weekend as much as I did.

Good bye to all the "Leaf Peepers."

See you next year.

A lot of people have decorated their homes for fall and Halloween. Cornstalks, pumpkins, ghosts and goblins have appeared on front lawns.

My brother, Steve McLain, said that his son, Brad McLain, arrived at the break of day last Sunday to finish splitting their woodpile. It has taken several times to get through the pile but it is finally done.

There was a Planning Board meeting last week, and I got to talk to Celia Broomhall and she filled me in on a couple of people on the Bog Road. I was glad to hear that Eleanor Pugliese is home and doing fine. "Hope You're Feeling Better" wishes go out to Alan Newton. I also found out that Sue Saunders injured her foot and is in a walking cast and, hopefully, Ginny McCoy is doing well.

Planning Board

There was a regular meeting of the Planning Board on Thursday, Oct. 5, at the Town Hall. Maine Land Development was supposed to be there to submit their application for the Peaked Hill Subdivision, but they could not attend. They plan on coming to the November meeting.

There were four members of the board present: Jack Pucak, Sue Saunders, Len Strait and Celia Broomhall. Ginny McCoy was unable to attend. There were five members from the public there to attend the meeting and ask questions regarding the subdivision. When the application is submitted, AVCOG (Androscoggin Valley Council of Governments) will be present to work with the Planning Board.

There has been a recommendation for a new member of the board to fill the vacancy for an alternate member. The name will go to the selectmen at their next meeting.

Gilead Historical Society
The discussion of the subdivision on Peaked Hill renewed interest in the site of the old gristmill located on Bog Brook. Norm Buttrick, GHS historical archaeologist, and Catherine McGuire were at their house on the Bog Road this past weekend. They got together with Hugh Chapman and decided to walk in and take a look at the foundations that are left at the site. There are very few of these places left, so it is good to know where they are located for future reference.

Andover

by Melinda Averill

Hello Andover friends — what a perfect weekend! Thank goodness because the schools had a four-day one. The Fryeburg Fair sure had a good week.

Halloween Walk

Plans are well underway for Andover's second annual Halloween Walk, to be held on Saturday, Oct. 21. Last year was the first year Andover hosted this event and over 250 people showed their support. This year's walk promises to be even bigger and better than last year with a few of the favorite scenes being repeated including the Welcoming Witch of the Woods (Donna Morse) and Frankenstein (Mike Worthley), but many other new scenes are being added including a Tunnel of Terror, "The Ring," the Andover Saw Mill, and a little bit of disco will be thrown in, too. Organizers promise that it will be well worth it to get off the couch and take the ride up Route 5 or over Route 17 to Andover. Everyone knows Andover has a reputation of being a town that knows how to entertain (Andover Olde Homes Days in August), and this group does not plan to disappoint those who come visit us in the fall as well. We hope to see familiar faces from last year joined by new ones this year.

Walkers will be given a hayride to the woods entrance beginning at dusk, with tickets on sale by 6 p.m. in front of Andover Automotive and Andover Supply located on Main Street. Walkers will be able to pay to enter up until 8:45 p.m. and group walks will continue until the lines conclude. Walkers ages 4 and up will pay a $2 entry fee.

Hot cocoa and other treats will be available for purchase. All entry fees and food sales will benefit the Andover School 5th grade class for their end-of-the-year field trip in June 2007.

Andover's Haunted Halloween Walk earned rave reviews last year so make plans now to pack your car with family or friends and head on up to Andover. We'll be waiting for you!

Robert and Violet Swain have returned home from San Antonio, Texas, where Robert attended his 15th, and last, Squadron reunion. Thirty-eight people attended, but only ten were veterans.

Bertha Summerton, a former Andover resident, has moved to Hamilton, Mont., to be near her daughter, Anne. Her two grandsons are in Durango, Colo., and her granddaughter lives near her, where she is a junior in high school.

Jannette Chenery is a new resident of the Victorian Villa in Canton. Thinking-of-you cards would be nice.

The Snow Valley Sno-Goers met on Sept. 6. The following officers were elected: president, Sharon Farrington; vice president, Dan White; treasurer, Janet Farrington; recording secretary, Cookie Thew; corresponding secretary and membership, Honey Cronin; trailmaster, Hallie Hutchins; M.S.A. director, Malcolm Grant; alternate M.S.A., George Thew; activity director, Carolyn Merrill; and safety director, George Thew. A Landowners Supper will be held on Oct. 21 at the C.E.B.

Oct. 7 was a gorgeous fall day for an Andover wedding! The Reverend Richard Lorenc performed the wedding ceremony of Julie Atkins and John Lorenc at "Five Trees" camp overlooking the colorful mountains of Andover. More than 40 people attended the nuptials including family and friends from Connecticut, Nantucket, Massachusetts, Portland, Buxton, Turner, Lewiston and Andover. The ceremony was followed by a Downeast Polish wedding feast that included kielbasa from Connecticut and boiled Maine lobster for all.

Happy belated birthday to Nyla Dixon, who had a birthday on Oct. 10. Happy birthday this week to Brianna Jennings on the 13th, and Virginia Owings on the 14th.

Let's hope for no rain on Friday so that the fifth-grade class at Andover can make their annual hike up White Cap. This has been a tradition for Mr. Emery's fifth-graders and their parents for many years. While on top of the mountain

The award was presented by the Maine Association for Family and Consumer Sciences. She has also been nominated for the National Family and Consumer Science Teacher of the Year Award and will be attending the National Conference in Reno, Nev. in June. Tanguay has taught the subject at Mountain Valley Middle School for six years. She holds a master's degree in education from the University of New England. Hanover

by Clem Worcester

The Hanover Planning Board met on Wednesday, Oct. 4. New board member

Darlene Baker was welcomed to the board as was new alternate Jeff Watts. An amendment to the previously approved Hanover Pines subdivision was approved. Also approved was the site plan review that will enable Gardner Roberts Memorial Library to move from the Howard Pond Road to the Town Office lot on Ferry Road.

Truck 6 is gone. Truck 6 had been stationed at the Rumford Point substation since the early 1960s and responded to many house fires, chimney fires, woods fires and accidents throughout the area. Truck 6 took second place a few years ago when a newer truck was assigned to the Rumford Point station. However, time had taken its toll and although termed a strong pumper her body was showing signs of decay. So Truck 6 was sold and moved far away to Milan, N.H., and there are reports that a new fire truck will one day soon fill the empty bay at the Rumford Point substation.

A reminder that the Hanover Town Office will be closed on Tuesday, Oct. 17, to enable the staff attendance at a Bureau of Motor Vehicles meeting.

The annual Hanover Town Meeting will be Thursday, Oct. 26, at the Hanover Town House.

Peak foliage, Fryeburg Fair, events at Sunday River Ski Resort and the nearly perfect weather brought many folks to the Western Maine region last weekend. Much heavier than usual traffic was noted on US Route 2 through Hanover.

On or about Oct. 15, the dam at Howard Pond will be opened, beginning the annual fall water level lowering of the pond for the winter.

West Paris

by Joyce Lamb

The weather did cooperate for most of the Fryeburg Fair. And I did get to go for two days. I spent more time than usual viewing the exhibits in the numerous halls. It is amazing that there are so many talented people in the area. From fancy work to quilts, knitting and crocheting, to all kinds of baking by young and not so young, the prize ribbons were on most of the items. One could buy any kind of jewelry or craft, and of course there was plenty of food of any type to satisfy all. The only food missing was Harmon's Fried Clams for they had been selling within the race track for as long as I have attended. I always indulged in a pint. No one knew why they were not there. I missed them.

My brother, Glendon Allen, is still at Stephens Memorial Hospital but plans to return home on Monday. He is still very ill. I will be spending time in Buckfield with him to help what I can.

West Paris Univ. Church
On Sunday, Oct. 15, there will be no regular church service at the West Paris Universalist Church in the morning. There will be a big celebration at 2 p.m., for the church is 100 years old. Members of previous choirs are rehearsing. It will be nice to hear their voices again. Former ministers will be speaking. Plans are progressing well and we invite all to come and help us celebrate. Refreshments will be served.

On Sunday Joshua Hyssong, son of Nina and Rob Hyssong, celebrated his eighth birthday with a party. Attending were Grampa and Grammie Hyssong; Great-grandmies Florence McLaughlin and Joyce Lamb; and aunts, Jude and Peg Lamb; cousin Molly Flarity and her parents, Kyra and Gene Flaherty; cousins Nicolas, Sophia and Weston Hartley; and Joshua's sister, Emily. The little ones played and did drawings. After a filled- roll luncheon a spaceman-decorated moon cake was served with ice cream. It was an enjoyable day.

Early mornings Buffy has hurried out and straight back for there has been several frosty nights.

West Bethel

by Lorrie Hoeh

"Nature's first green is gold, / her hardest hue to hold. / Her early leaf's a flower; / but only so an hour. / Then leaf subsides to leaf. / So Eden sank to grief, / so dawn goes down to day. / Nothing gold can stay." — Robert Frost

As Jake and I walk the golden corridor on the National Forest road in the morning, Frost's poem comes to mind. Much of the red fall color is gone already, and now we are in the gold phase. But it, too, will not last, for "nothing gold can stay." It's always a little sad to see the last of Maine's spectacular autumn show; however, snow lovers can perhaps look forward to an equally spectacular winter display of white stuff.

Speaking of the forest road, we try to keep the litter, left by the slob contingent of Western Maine, picked up. I never cease to be amazed at the number of returnable bottles and cans to be found on the roadside. My mother used to say, "Take care of the nickles and dimes, and the dollars will take care of themselves." Mindful of Mom's motto, I pick them up and return them for the deposit. Some may think it chump change, but I enjoy every nickel of it!

As I write this, I haven't yet heard the final attendance figures for the Fryeburg Fair. From an eyeball account, however, considering such factors as parking availability, traffic jams to and from the fair, length of lines at food stands, and fatigue level at the end of the working day in the Farm Museum, I'd say it was a smashing success. It will be interesting to hear if, in fact, there were some records set. I was pleased to see the Innans, with Caili and Ani, on Sunday when they stopped by to say "hi" in the Museum. We also saw Mabel Kennett, who spends the week at the Fair with Alden in their camper. Mabel drops by almost daily to be sure we have proper snacks and drinks.

Members of Pleasant Valley Grange were back at the Fairgrounds on Monday, Oct. 9, to dismantle and carry away their prizewinning exhibits. Both the agricultural and homemaking displays won second prize ribbons over all, no mean accomplishment with the strong competition they had. Kudos to all who were involved!

We were saddened to hear of the devastating fire at the home of Mike and Debbie Martin on Meadowbrook Bridge Road last Saturday. Having a home fire ranks with life's great losses, and the ramifications are long lasting. We wish them well as they work to recover from the trauma of the fire.

Mike returned on Saturday from his fishing trip on the Miramichi River in New Brunswick. As I have said before, the Atlantic salmon is billed as the "fish of 10,000 casts," not without reason. He did net a 32-inch salmon on his last day of fishing, though, so it was a successful trip. Actually, even if he didn't catch any, he would have considered the trip a success, because he just loves being on the river. All the fishing there is catch and release.

Speaking of which, Mike has recorded catching (and releasing) 27 hatchery-raised rainbow trout this season on the Androscoggin between Gilead and Newt's Landing, but no brown trout. He is mystified by the complete absence of wild rainbows and browns. Does anyone have any thoughts on the matter?

Sherry Colarusso was at the Colarusso's camp in the Mud City Schoolhouse this past week. She led a professional development workshop for teachers from Andover, Woodstock, and Crescent Park schools on Friday, and then did teaching demonstrations in the classrooms on Tuesday and Wednesday. The focus was on integrating math instruction into the entire curriculum, rather than confining it to a block of "math time." My grapevine tells me that her presentation was very well received — in the words of one participant, "one of the best I've seen."

Sherry was joined over the long weekend by husband John, who flew up from Florida to share the glorious fall weather and foliage with her. They also went to the Fryeburg Fair on Saturday and had a great time.

We have had several killing frosts or freezes during the past week. One night we recorded a low of 24 degrees.

I'm sure there are pockets of even colder temperatures in the neighborhood. The drive to Fryeburg early on those frosty mornings led through patches of dense fog, as well as stretches of anemic sunshine, but most days turned warm by late morning. Hope you're all getting your wood in and batten the hatches for winter.

Mason

by Richard Grover
Mason folks were saddened and distressed by a fire that gutted Mike and Debby Martin's home last Saturday. The Martins have devoted a lot of work and money on sprucing up and improving the house over the past several years, making their loss that much harder to take. Mike was even in the process of re-shingling the house when the fire broke out. Our hearts and good wishes go out to them both.

On a lighter note, my daughter Anita and husband Dan brought baby Sierra here for a few days on Saturday. That baby is the sweetest thing and is a real mommy's girl, but I've been working on getting smiles out of her and vow to be holding her without stress before they go home. At six months of age she enjoys hikes with dad carrying her in their "kid backpack."

Sunday was such a beautiful fall day that we decided to take a family hike up Sabattus Mountain near Lovell, which Mona had read about in the Sunday paper a couple Sundays ago. There is an easy loop trail leading to the series of rock outcroppings along the south side of the summit which provide spectacular views reaching from Bald Face Mountain and Mt. Washington in New Hampshire southward to Pleasant Mountain in Bridgton and rolling hills and low mountains to the south and east. Five lakes and ponds are visible, but we couldn't see Sebago Lake, which the paper said was visible from there. Either we didn't know just where to look or the light brown haze visible to the south obscured the big lake. I recommend this as an afternoon hike, which can be completed in under two hours if you don't stop to enjoy the scenery. Last weekend, the foliage in the valleys was still spectacular, but the leaves are falling fast.

Lately, I've been noticing more symptoms of CRS in myself (You know, Can't Remember Stuff). For example, last Friday afternoon I took Snuffy and my 12-gauge shotgun for a walk up our dirt road here, looking for an unwary partridge that sometimes perch on rocks along the roadside. When I reached into my pocket for the shells, I found that the 20-gauge shells I brought didn't exactly fit the 12-gauge gun! So, I took Snuffy and the shotgun for a practice hunt. At least, I kept up the image for the few vehicles that drove past!

As we walked up the road, I saw that D. A. Wilson has the road looking good. It is nicely graded, with the ditches newly cleaned and spread with hay. I also noted a row of newly cut stumps of bushes and small trees about knee high along the south side of the road. I suspect that Wilson's man Bruce must have been exercising his trusty axe. He seems to enjoy clearing the roadside as a beaver would do!

Michael Blaisdell and Diane Howe had a busy week at the Fryeburg

Fair doing leatherwork.

As the neighborhood knows, Mary Bean is at Maine Medical Center. No word has been received as to what the problem could be.

Alder River Grange will have a regular meeting on Oct. 13 that will be an open meeting for the public to come and hear what Seniors Plus will be telling us about new changes to Medicare Plan D. The meeting will start at 7:30 p.m.

There will be a Harvest Supper on Oct. 21 at the Grange Hall and the Turkey Supper will be on Nov. 11. Any veteran will have a free supper. Adults will be $6 and under 13 will be $3. The suppers will start at 5 p.m.

The leaves are pretty now and weather is unbelievable.

If you have news give me a ring at 824-3350. God Bless the Troops.

Waterford

by Rockie Graham
Sorry for not writing last week. David's mom passed away two weeks ago and we took a sudden trip to Massachusetts for her funeral. It is difficult when parents are far away from their offspring and in need of care. My family of origin is all far away and again that makes it difficult to maintain contact. At least my family of friends is nearby.

The weather is changing. Yesterday it was in the high 70s. Today they say it will be in the 50s. We shall see what it actually is. I am just glad it is sunny and not wet. That comes later, probably when you are reading this. For now, it is in the 40s and will go up to the 50s or 60s later. That is just fine with me.

Tonight, the 12th, there is a Harvest Supper in Stoneham. It is at the Stoneham Church Vestry on Route 5. The menu is corned beef and cabbage with homemade pies for dessert. Cost is $7 for adults and $3.50 for children under 12.

Halloween is almost three weeks away and already there are Halloween adventures. There are hay rides and films and even is a night hike at the Maine Wildlife Park in Gray. That might actually be fun. Our only problem is neither of us wants to drive at night. It must be a sign that we are getting older.

With the garden almost all gone and the wood mostly in, I think we are almost ready for winter. We still want to sell the KIA because we want to get out from under the payments, but that will happen when it gets colder and people are looking for 4wd. It is a great little car and someone will want it. So far, only people without money have wanted it. We will wait.

I am getting a hint of what it will be like in here in the winter. My office is a bit on the chilly side and almost too cold for my fingers to type. It is time to light the stove for the morning. Then it gets a bit hot in here, but I will be gone by then. I think I will brew a cup of tea and warm up my hands.

Have a great week and enjoy the sunny days. Even the rain at this time of year isn't so bad. It isn't white and usually doesn't last long.

Albany

by Sheila Dyke

Greetings and hello from Albany Township. What gorgeous, warm autumn weather we've been having! Of course, it's been too cold in the morning to ride my bike to work any more (and I do miss doing so), but the afternoons have been lovely.

We took the kids to the Fryeburg Fair Friday morning and walked around for almost six hours. Pam Rugg would be embarrassed for me as to how much my back still aches! We like looking at the exhibits, eating the fair food and playing some of the games, and the kids seemed to have enjoyed themselves, too. Dyana and David won some small stuffed animals, and gave Danny three of their winnings. He's been wearing them like rings (they have string loops to hang up with) ever since.

Bud Bowden had visitors up this weekend, and we noticed some Jeeps up and about the area, too. Our road was very busy with it being Fall Festival weekend and Columbus Day weekend. We also watched as folks driving down the hill would slow way down or just stop so that they could look at the magnificent view over the colorful mountains.

Best wishes for a happy and safe week. God Bless and Keep.

Ingrid Twitcheil, Woodstock, will be speaking at Woodstock Memorial Library on Thursday, Oct. 12, at 10 a.m. She will talk about raising sheep and different uses of the wool.

Les Thurlow spent the week at Fryeburg Fair taking care of cattle.

Wesley Cox is working for Matt Cushman doing electrical work.

Kellie Wing attended the round robin soccer game at Sabattus town field last Saturday. Her grandson, Zack, is one of the players; she said he did a good job.

Vinny Lima has returned from a bird-hunting trip in Abbott.

Walter Appleby III is working in the electrical department at KBS in South Paris.

The Woodstock town road crew is doing a good job getting the roads in good shape for winter.

Donald Jackson ("Tucky") struck out in the moose hunt in Millinocket. He had four flat tires before finally getting home.

One of our neighbors is busy doing some landscaping around his new home here on the hill.

The leaves are just beautiful in this area — get out and enjoy.

Quote of the Week: "I've learned that I was part of the mess. Both children are gone and there are still crumbs on the kitchen counter and floor."

Sports

High School Boys' Varsity Soccer

Telstar 5, Mt. Valley 1; Oct. 10—Telstar's Frankie Delduca scored twice and Matt Zinchuk, Max Meader and Tim Fifield once each. Kevin Gallagher had four saves in goal. The Rebels concluded the regular season 13-0-1.

Telstar 2, Dirigo 1; Oct. 7—Telstar got a goal from Louis Thornton and the game winner with 1:14 left in the game by Max Meader, assisted by Matt Zinchuk. The team is now 11-0-1. The alumni game had a good turnout. They played 8-on-8 for an hour, but most ran out of gas after 30 minutes. The score was 6-4. This year's participants were Mark Kenney, Chris Duplessis, Will Caswell, Bruce Korhonen, Ross Parker, Tim Remington, Jim Thornton, Kevin Zinchuk, Dan Zinchuk, Greg Luetje, Chris Hayward, Steve Estes, David Jenkins, Matt Newell, Eliot Poirier and Blake Conrad. Thanks to all the parents and friends who helped out this weekend and who supported the soccer program.—coach Tim Remington.

Gould 5, Kents Hill 2; Oct. 7—Gould dominated play in the first 25 minutes. The Huskies moved the ball around the field, creating several scoring opportunities and capitalizing on them three times. The first goal was scored on a volley by T.L. Tutor on an excellent service by Willie Courtney in the sixth minute. The second goal came from a restart. Fabian Suessenguth sent a quick free kick to Leon Maierhofer out wide. Maierhofer then served a gorgeous ball to Madison Lamar, who headed it in at the near post in the 11th minute. T.L. Tutor scored his second goal in the 23rd minute from a purposeful ball from Ian Siekman. Kents Hill managed to score one goal before halftime to make the score 3-1. After the break, Kents Hill scored again to pull them within one goal. The Gould team was able to regain their shape and dominance on both sides of the ball and created several more scoring opportunities. Many of these scoring opportunities began with balls played wide to Leon Maierhofer. Leon was able to score in the 56th minute on a rebound to secure the lead. T.L. Tutor then scored his third goal of the game on a beautiful bending ball in the upper corner from 35 yards in the 70th minute to ensure victory.

Telstar 5, Lisbon 3; Oct. 4—Telstar's Max Meader and Louis Thornton had two goals each and Matt Zinchuk one. Kevin Gallagher had eight saves in goal.

Bridgton 1, Gould 0; Oct. 4—Gould coach Brett Shifrin said of the game, "We held our shape and made the play of Bridgton predictable, which led to several counter attacks and excellent scoring opportunities." Twice in the first half, T.L. Tutor was unlucky not to score when one shot went off the post and the other was saved by the Bridgton goalkeeper. In the midfield, Fabian Suessenguth and Jonathon Parsons did well to control play and begin the attack. Ian Siekman, Brian Murphy, Willie Courtney, Ji Ho Ha, Seth Gray, and Jake Warshawsky played very well in the back and did not allow Bridgton any easy opportunities to score. In goal, Max Zolt made 14 saves. Bridgton was able to score just before half-time on a bouncing ball in the box.

High School Boys' J.V. Soccer

Telstar 2, Dirigo 1, Oct. 7—Telstar goals were by Bryce Walker and Tim Fifield. Alex Gundersen got the win in net and made a great save in the last seconds to preserve the Rebels' win.

Gould 3, Hebron 1; Oct. 4—Gould's JVB team traveled to Hebron on Saturday, where they earned their first victory of the season. Ayumu Oda scored two quick goals by following his own breakaways right into the net. Then, Nick Bean put one in the back of the net with a one touch volley on a cross from Tim Hsu. During the second half, the team hung on with great goal keeping from Yoon Kang, including a blocked penalty kick.

High School Girls' Varsity Soccer

Gould 1, Hebron 0; Oct. 7—The Lady Huskies traveled to Hebron on Saturday for their second game against the Lumberjacks and their first win of the season. After an uneventful first half, Brittany Rogers scored the only goal of the game on a corner kick. Goalies Molly Spadone and Brittany Rogers earned a total of 16 saves in the game. The team's record now stands at 1-3-1.

High School Varsity Field Hockey

Telstar 2, Mt. Valley 1; Oct. 9—Telstar's Josie Reiss and Chelsea Bean had goals in a win over Mt. Valley. It was the Rebels' 10th straight win. Brianna Douglass had four saves in goal.

Gould 2, Hebron 3; Oct. 7—Hebron had the momentum in the first half, but Gould held them to only one goal with great defense and goalkeeping by Nicole Gaidis. The second half was much closer, though Hebron scored the next two goals, the Gould Huskies never gave up. Twenty seconds after Hebron got their third goal, Gould came back with a quick goal by Nelle Reid. Tomi Chipman then added the next goal just a few minutes later on a rushed shot. Gould tied the game on a high tip by Shannon Littlefield, but the goal was called back and Hebron ended up with the win after a very close second half match up.—coach Sue Gardner Telstar 1, Hall-Dale 0; Oct. 6—Telstar's Jodie Reiss scored the lone goal of the game. Whitney Mills had an assist. Brianna Douglass had three saves in goal.

Cross Country Running

TMS J.V. Soccer

Telstar 1, Dirigo 0; Oct. 5—at home by a score of 1-0. The lone goal was scored by Jacob Wakefield and assisted by Randy Morin. Justin Smith made 2 saves on two shots in goal. The young Rebels dominated most of the game keeping Dirigo pinned in their defensive end forcing numerous shots on goal. It was a great offensive and defensive effort by all. coach Mark Kenny Carrabec 3, Telstar 2; Oct. 6—Despite a smaller playing field, and an opposing team that was older and physically much larger, the team played very hard and kept the game competitive. Goals were scored by Randy Morin and Danny Whitney with assists from Autumn Berry and Doug Gardner. Justin

Smith made some unbelievable saves in goal to keep the game close. I was very proud of the efforts made by each player both on and off the field during this game despite the difficult playing conditions.—coach Mark Kenny

Telstar 5, Jay 0; Oct. 6—A hat trick was netted by Jacob Wakefield and an assist, along with two goals from Doug Gardner, and one assist by Catelynn Bennett. Michael DelDuca and Danny Whitney combined in goal for the shutout on with two saves. Super individual performances also by Randy Morin, Katie Blaszcak, Dusty Bailey, Dylan Poland, Felicia Curtis, Trent Bonney, Ricky James, James Piccirillo, and David Mason. Special assistance was provided by Gardner, Whitney, Devon Vail, and Jared Rice.—coach Mark Kenny

TMS Varsity Soccer

Telstar 2, 0; Oct. 5—Telstar goals were scored by Devin Vail and Max Hammerton with a beautiful unassisted outside of the 18. Daniel Vaughn did a great job in goal with another shut out. Awesome game by all.—coach Greg Luetje

Telstar 3, Jay 0; Oct. 6—Telstar's Tyler Brown had an unassisted penalty kick. The other two goals were scored by Danny Whitney, one an amazing head ball. Assists made by Casey Thorton and Nick Schwartz. Daniel Vaughn had his third shut out of the season. Great game, Telstar—coach Greg Luetje

Youth Football

Third and Fourth Grade

Jay/Livermore 12, Greenwood 6; Oct 1—The Spartans' offense showed some life and the defense played superb as the team fell just short of their first win. Nick Johnson scored the team's first touchdown of the season and Hunter Williamson and Dillon Cherkis each had a nice kickoff return. John Brooks had some nice runs and newcomers Sadie Ellsworth and Nick Reavis had good games.

Fifth and Sixth Grade

Turner 36, Greenwood 14; Oct 1—Early turnovers proved to difficult to overcome but the Spartans buckled down to play a solid second half. Bronson Dean put on a fine display of running; instinctively weaving in and around players all over the field and scoring a touchdown. Dominic Haines also scored a touchdown. Cole Davis had a breakout game on defense and Kurt Morgan won praises from the opposing coach on his defensive play. Mike Del Duca made a two-point conversion.

Third and Fourth Grade

Mountain Valley 30, Greenwood 6; Oct. 8—A solid Falcons team wore down the Spartans' defense on a hot Sunday afternoon. Chris Chappie had some nice runs for the Spartans and Nick Johnson ran for his second touchdown of the year. Hunter Williamson and Ryan Bennett had great games defensively.

Fifth and Sixth Grade

Mountain Valley 33, Greenwood 8; Oct 8—An emotionally charged Falcons team dominated the Spartans on a hot Sunday afternoon. Bronson Dean did manage to get the crowd roaring as he blew open a 55 yard run to get the Spartans close to the goal line. Dominic Haines rushed in on the next play and Mike Delduca made the conversion. Haines also made a nice touchdown saving tackle by running half the field to catch a Falcons runner. The Spartans Boosters donated the money from their 50 / 50 raffle (as well as the lady who won it) to the Dolloff family, whose late son was a member of the Falcons team. About 200 people showed up to watch the two games.—coach Andrew Wheeler.

The return of Telstar football

Telstar's new J.V. football team played its third game Monday at Fryeburg Academy, falling to the Raiders 14-0. Clockwise, from left: Telstar's A.J. Herbert runs the ball; a Raider ball carrier runs into a wall of Rebel defenders; Andrew Brooks pulls down an interception; the Telstar defense lines up for a play.

ning, Oct. 24, at the Bethel Inn Resort. The social hour begins at 5 p.m., and dinner will be held at 6 p.m. in the Main Dining Room. The business meeting and recognition will follow shortly after 7 p.m. Reservations are required no later than Friday, Oct. 20, by calling the office at 824-2282. A full-course dinner is $26 per person, and choices include: saluted salmon medallions, lemon pepper chicken, top sirloin charbroiled w/garlic butter and a vegetarian entrée, asparagus Wellington. Tables of 8 are available. Many thanks to Oxford Networks, our sponsor. All members are welcomed to attend.

Several other networking and educational opportunities are also on the schedule for October. The monthly Networking Breakfast, on Wednesday, Oct. 18, at the Bethel Inn in the South Dining Room, will feature guest speakers from the Maine Department of Inland Fisheries and Wildlife. Bill Pierce and John Boland will share with those gathered the great strides that have been made stocking and promoting the Androscoggin River as a world-class fishery. A full buffet breakfast is available for $7 per person and an RSVP is required by Tuesday, Oct. 17, by calling 824-2282.

One week later, on Wednesday, Oct. 25, from 8 to 10 a.m., all are welcomed to attend a small business educational seminar organized by Maine's Small Business Administration, called the "First Stop Business Information Seminar." Many topics of interest to both the existing and aspiring small business person include: SBA History, Technical Assistance/Resource Partners — SCORE, SBDC, MWWC and Women's Business Centers, Educational and State Resources — University, DECD, DOL, etc., Capital — Sources of funding, Commercial Lender considerations — business information and credit items, Public Sector funding resources, SBA Programs — Microloan, 7(a), 504, International Trade programs, Government Contracting — SBA's 8(a) Program and other general resources — MEP, MTI, DECD, etc. The seminar is an informal discussion format and adjusted to the attendees' needs. An RSVP is required by Monday, October 23. All businesses, chamber members and non-members, are invited to this.

From Oxford County Democrats

Maine Attorney General Steve Rowe presented a series of seminars on Identity Theft and scams especially targeting the elderly on Oct. 4 in Oxford County, at the invitation of the Oxford County Democratic Committee. At the sessions in Norway and Rumford, Rowe was accompanied by Wilton Police Chief Wayne Gallant, who is seeking the office of sheriff of Oxford County.

Gallant spoke about ways to prevent Property Crime and distributed materials from the Tri-County Property Crimes Task Force, of which he is co-founder. Information is available at www.propertycrimes.com.

Some of the tips to prevent identity theft include inspecting credit ratings annually by calling (877) 322-8228, or www.annualcreditreport.com or write to Annual Credit Report Request Service, PO Box 105281, Atlanta GA. Also using the Do Not Call Registry to get off telemarketers' lists, (888) 382-1222 or www.donotcall.gov. Check out businesses for major home repairs at (877) 353-3771; for other tips on avoiding victimization go to www.Maine.gov/ag.

County Democratic Chairperson Cathy Newell introduced Democratic candidates attending the sessions including Sen. Bruce Bryant, Rep. John Patrick, Roy Gedat, House District 95, and Tim Carter, District 91. All shared accounts of stories relayed to them on the campaign trail of issues of scams and fraud aimed at the elderly.

The Democratic booth at the Fryeburg Fair was busy all week. Congressman Michaud was at the fair on Thursday and toured the grounds with Marge Medd, Senate 13 candidate.

Upcoming events for County Democrats include the Gallant for Sheriff fundraising supper and dance on Thursday, Oct. 12, at the Eagles Hall in Rumford beginning at 4 p.m. There will be a ham dinner catered by Maddy's and music following.

Donkey Tuesday, an Election year Musical Supper and Silent Auction, is happening on Tuesday, Oct. 17, at the Locke Mills Legion Hall on the Gore Road in Greenwood, sponsored by the Oxford County Democrats. The event, chaired by Jan Kubiak, will feature a variety of musical entertainment beginning with harp music by Conni St Pierre, and post-supper selections featuring Donnie Katlin and others.

The supper menu is Lauretta's lasagna and all the fixings. Tickets are $10, with senior citizens and children under 12 at $5 and are available at the door. The meal will be served starting at 5:45 p.m., with the hall opening for music and socializing at 5. The Silent Auction, featuring many items of interest, will be held throughout the event, and there will be a 50-50 drawing. The event is open to all political persuasions who appreciate good food, good music and discussion.

Oxford County Democratic candidates will be in attendance, including House candidates Tim Carter and Roy Gedat, sheriff candidate Wayne Gallant, and County Treasurer Mary Ann Prue, as will Conservation Commissioner Patrick McGowan and officials from the Inland Fisheries and Wildlife, including Committee Chairman Sen. Bruce Bryant.

To reserve a ticket, contact Oxford County Democratic chairperson Cathy Newell at 875-2116.

For additional information visit the website, www.oxforddems.org or call Newell at 875-2116.

From Bethel Historical Society's Regional History Center

A fall course on antiques and collectibles will be offered by the Bethel Historical Society beginning on Wednesday, Oct. 25, in the meeting room of the Dr. Moses Mason House, beginning at 7:30 p.m. There will be three other classes, which will provide introductions to several types of antiques and collectibles.

The first class on Oct. 25 will introduce what is meant by the term "antique" and "collectable" with a number of examples of each provided during the session. On Nov. 1, the focus will be on furniture, textiles, and carpets; Nov. 8, porcelain, pottery, glass, paintings, jewelry and silver will be featured; Nov. 15, paper, comic books, toys and photography are set to be highlighted. During all of these sessions, participants will be encouraged to bring their vintage possessions or heirlooms for discussion.

Teaching the course will be Jay Boschetti of Bethel who owns and operates Steam Mill Antiques on U.S. Route 2, just west of Bethel Hill village. During a childhood where his parents were very active in buying, selling and collecting antiques and collectibles, Boschetti developed an appreciation for vintage items and has continued to collect, buy and sell them through the years. A graduate of the University of Massachusetts at Boston, he also obtained his teaching credentials at Salem State College before moving to Maine in 1991. His great-grandfather Gerry Brooks once practiced law in Bethel for several years before his death in 1966.

The course is open to anyone interested. For members, the course fee will be $15 and for non-members $20. To register, please call the society office at 824-2908 or (800) 824-2910.

Styles Bridges Lecture The third lecture in the 2006 Series honoring the 40th anniversary of the founding of the Bethel Historical Society will be held on Oct. 12 in the meeting room of the Dr. Moses Mason House, beginning at 7:30 p.m. James J. Kiepper, author of "Styles Bridges: Yankee Senator," will be the featured speaker for this presentation sponsored in part by a grant from the Maine Humanities Council. The lecture on this Maine-born Governor and powerful U.S. Senator is free and open to everyone interested. Dr. Kiepper, an emeritus professor at the State University of New York at Buffalo, will also have copies of his book for sale at a special discount for those attending the lecture.

From Bethel Lions Club

The Bethel Lions Club would like to thank everyone who donated to the "Lions Eye Care Program" in memory of Lion Eldon Greenleaf and to everyone who donated their time and all the food for after the service.

The Bethel Lions have been on the move, visiting other clubs, attending zone meetings, first cabinet meeting at Camp Susan Curtis, and volunteering at the Fryeburg Lions food booth at Fryeburg Fair.

The annual Peace Poster Contest has begun. There are three monetary awards given on the local level: 1) $25, 2) $15, 3) $10. For more information call 824-2990.

If you have unneeded eye glasses, there is a collection box at Brooks Bros., on Main Street.

This Friday, the 13th, the Bethel Lions will hold the annual "White Cane Day," at the Bethel Foodliner, 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Please stop by and meet some of the Bethel Lions and find out about "White Cane Day."

The Bethel Lions meet the second and fourth Thursday of the month, at the United Methodist Church.

If anyone is in need of eye care assistance, please call 824-2107 for an application.

From Western Maine Girls Association

There's nothing like seeing tiaras in a race. Last weekend, inspired by Leslie Baumgartel, Kate Goldberg, director of the Western Maine Girls Association, ran the Portland 1/2 Marathon (Leslie ran the full marathon). They were both part of Team Tiara, a fundraiser for the Girls on the Run program. The way it works pledges are collected per mile. The best part of the program is the lovely tiara and shirt participants receive to run in.

The crowd really responded to the tiaras, yelling out words of support. Leslie's fundraising is going to go directly to the startup of a program at Woodstock. It would be great to have more team tiara participants new this year supporting the Western Maine Girls Association while having fun and reaching a goal.

Our other big happening for the fall is the development of a program for women. So many times we have heard from women, "when are you offering something for us?"

The Maine Women's Foundation is supporting this wish. The first offering will be Oct. 28 with Arla Patch, who will offer a workshop "Accessing your Creativity." There will be an offering a month through June. You can sign up for all or just one. To get more information call Kate at 824-3459.

Also, another reminder that we are postponing the 5k until spring. We are hoping to have our biggest group yet doing the Girls on the Run program.

Obituaries

MICHAEL T. WAGNER

Michael T. Wagner, 55, of Oxford died suddenly in Florida on Wednesday, Oct. 4, 2006 at his favorite vacation resort with his life partner, Melissa May, at his side.

He was born on Oct. 27, 1950, in Biddeford, to Andrew and Helen (Hudson) Wagner.

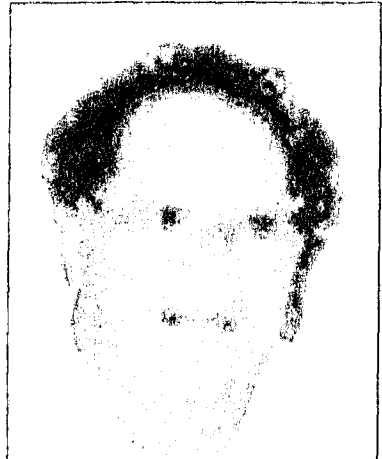

He attended schools in Oxford and was a longtime employee of the Oxford/Norway Water District.

Mike was a member of Oxford Lodge AF&AM of Norway. He enjoyed snowmobiling, boating, Disney World, and his new dog, Andy.

He is survived by his life partner, Melissa May, of Oxford; his mother, Helen (Pike) Wilbur and her partner Willis Lowell; a daughter, Tiffany Cazzolino and husband Patrick of Westerly, R.I.; a stepson, Warren Parsons of Norway; two brothers, David Wagner and wife Linda of West Paris, and Joel Wagner of Norway; three sisters, Deborah LeCours and husband Moe of Buxton, Joanne Pike Manley and husband Thomas of Lewiston, and Amanda Sahadak and husband David of Buxton; six grandchildren; numerous nieces and nephews; and in-laws, Janette and Greylin Plummer of Raymond and Lloyd and Debra May of New Gloucester.

Funeral services were held Monday, Oct. 9, at the Second Congregational Church of Norway. Interment will follow at Riverside Cemetery, King Street, Oxford, following the funeral. In lieu of flowers, donations in Mike's memory may be sent to the Rock-a-Dundee Snowmobile Club, P.O. Box 6, Oxford, ME 04270.

FLOYD E. STAPLES

Floyd E. Staples, 72, of Lisbon Falls passed away unexpectedly at CMMC, Lewiston, with his loving family by his side on Sunday, Oct. 8, 2006.

Floyd was born on Feb. 1, 1934 in Dixfield a son of the late Clinton and Jeannette (Campbell) Staples.

He was educated in Dixfield schools and graduated from Gould Academy in Bethel. He later married his best friend and the love of his life, Shirley Enman on Sept. 3, 1955 in Upton. They shared 51 wonderful years of marriage.

Floyd then went on to serve his country in the United States Navy during the Korean and Vietnam Wars. In the service he worked as Aviation Hydraulics Technician for over 20 years. Floyd also worked for BIW as a tin knocker for 19 1/2 years.

Floyd was a member of the Sabattus American Legion Post 135, and of the Brunswick Fleet Reserve Unit 156.

Floyd loved going to his camp in Upton to go fishing; he greatly enjoyed woodworking and gardening.

Floyd was affectionately known as "Uncle Diddy." He was a very loving, caring and devoted man, especially to his wife, children, grandchildren and his sisters.

Floyd is survived by his loving wife, Shirley Staples of Lisbon Falls; his five children, Rebecca Stevenson and husband John of Maryland, Mark Staples and wife Debbie of Durham, Sonya Andrews and husband Bob of Durham, Heidi Pelletier and husband John of Greene, and Mica Staples and wife Lori of North Carolina; his two sisters, Clarise Carrier of Carthage, and Thelma Berry of Dixfield; his six grandchildren, Joshua and Jeannette Carter, Ashley and Matthew Staples, Lindsey Pelletier and Stephen DeRobertis; his special friend and helper, Jimmy Fowler and family; as well as many nieces, nephews and friends.

A time of gathering and remembrance will be held at Crosman Funeral Home, 40 Main Street, Lisbon Falls on Thursday, Oct. 12, from 6 to 9 p.m. Those wishing to make memorial contributions in Floyd's memory may do so to the American Diabetes Association, P.O. Box 2680, North Canton, OH 44720.

WALTER C. PENLEY

Walter C. "Hoppy" Penley, 84, of 12 Marble Lane, Dixfield, went home peacefully Oct. 8, 2006 to be with his Lord with his loving family by his side.

He was born in Rumford, on Aug. 20, 1922, the son of Carlton and Annie (Flagg) Penley. He was employed by Oxford Paper Co., Stowell MacGregor and the town of Dixfield for many years.

On Sept. 1, 1945, he married Lillian Jackson of Temple. He loved everybody and could carry on a conversation with anybody. He enjoyed telling stories and jokes. He loved animals, especially dogs. He often spoke about his motorcycle, his country and western band called "Hoppy and His Mountaineers." He loved to sing and play the guitar. He was always willing to lend a helping hand whenever he could, despite a bout with polio that left his foot crippled.

He was a member of the Church of the Nazarene.

Survivors include his wife, Lillian of Dixfield; four daughters, Lorraine Welch of Dixfield, Rosanna Penley of Rumford, Sandra Frost, and her husband Morton of Mexico and Wanda Jepson and her companion Glenwood Berry of Carthage; two sons, Philip Penley of Peru and Garfield Penley of Dixfield; two sisters, Marie Tyler of Bryant Pond and Evelyn Morin and her husband Gerald of Bryant Pond; three brothers, Carroll Verrill of Bryant Pond, Harold Verrill and his wife Betty of Bryant Pond and Roland Tyler and his companion Linda of Dixfield; one stepsister, Patricia Fox of Augusta; two stepbrothers, Wendell Tyler of Canton and Carlton Tyler and his wife Gloria of Newburgh; 20 grandchildren; 28 great-grandchildren; and five great-great-grandchildren. He was predeceased by an infant son, Francis, in 1954; daughter-in-law, Judy Penley; son-in-laws, Brian Jepson, David Welch and Lawrence Welch; grandchildren, Dawn Jepson and Todd Garland; his brother, Francis Penley; and his folks.

Special thanks to two wonderful caregivers: his daughter, Wanda Jepson and his granddaughter, Candy Welch and hospice nurses, Tammy Bean and Jane Chandler.

Public memorial services will be held on Thursday, Oct. 12, at 3 p.m. at the Dixfield Church of the Nazarene. After services, all are welcome to attend a family reception in the church undercroft. Those who desire may give gifts in his memory to the American Cancer Society, One Main Street, Suite 300, Topsham, ME 04086. On-line condolences may be sent to wifesfunera lhomes@verizon.net.

Card of Thanks

Geraldine (Hart) Phelps and family would like to send a very special thank you to each and every one who helped out, put together and attended the benefit supper. It was greatly appreciated.

Thank You

Card of Thanks

Carlee and I would like to thank all the family and friends who helped us during our time of need. Your support in all its many forms is carrying us through this tragedy. Without all of you, our hardships would be unbearable.

From the bottom of our hearts,
Thank you,
Doug & Carlee Beatson
